About the cover

Cousins Brandon, left, and Karilyn Wiard have what can safely be called an "apple connection."

Brandon, 2, is son of Jay and Christina Wiard, while Karilyn, 3, is the daughter of Scott and Karen Wiard. Jay and Scott, along with their parents, Emily and Philip, Jr. are the owners of Wiard's Orchards, 5565 Merrit, Ypsilanti Township.

They recently took a break from helping get in the fall crop to snack on — what else? apples, and Press Photographer Dorothy Neaton took this photo.

Apples not just business for two area orchards

By MARY BARINOFF
Press Staff Writer

Growing apples is a family tradition for Wiard's Orchards in Ypsilanti Township and Saline Orchards in Saline, co-sponsors of this year's Ypsilanti Apple Harvest.

For 130 years, five generations of the Wiard family have been producing apples and pressing cider, says Emily Wiard.

The original family orchard, now the site of General Motors' Hydramatic plant at Willow Run, was sold in the 1930s. After the sale, the family moved to a 180-acre farm at 5565 Merritt and planted new trees on 135 of the acres.

Today, the orchard and farm is owned by Emily's husband, Philip Jr., and their sons, Scott and Jay.

"It's the love of the orchard and family tradition that have kept us in the business," Emily Wiard said.

Saline Orchards, formerly known as Austin Orchards, was purchased by Dick and Doris Gaskill 10 years ago, marking the continuation of a second generation of the Gaskill family in the fruit-growing business.

Dick Gaskill was born on a dairy and fruit farm between Buffalo and Rochester in western New York and has spent his entire lifetime farming.

The Gaskills, who moved to Michigan 15 years ago, owned and operated an apple orchard in Milford for five years before purchasing their present 100-acre orchard on a 240-acre farm at 9365 Saline-Milan Road.

"I guess you could say I followed in my father's footsteps," Dick Gaskill said.

The Wiards and Gaskills anticipate a short apple season this year because of a late spring frost and dry year, generally runs from the first week in summer. But the quality of apples is relatively good and size is close to normal, they say.

The picking season, which began late this year, generally runs from the first week in September through mid-October. Both Wiard's and Saline Orchards provide free picking (See APPLES, Page 3)

Wiard's Orchards offers seven types of apples, including McIntosh, Cortland, Jonathan, Red and Yellow Delicious, Steel Red and Northern Spy. Open all year, it also sells pears, plums, asparagus in the spring, pick-your-own sweet corn in the summer and pumpkins in the fall.

Saline Orchards, one of the few area orchards that irrigates its crop, has five types of late apples, including McIntosh, Jonathan, Red and Yellow Delicious and Wine Sap, as well as a variety of early apples. Also featured are tart cherries, some peaches and pears.

Wiard's employs about 90 people at the peak of its harvest season, while Saline Orchards employs 25 people in the orchard and another 12 at its On Farm Bakery at harvest time.

Saline Orchard's bakery and store is open all year and sells a large variety of fruits, home-grown and purchased vegetables, pies, doughnuts, sweet rolls, bread and press cider. The cider is available throughout the year.

"We get quite a number of elderly people coming in because we're not quite as busy as other places and they can get around more," says Dick (See APPLES, Page 4)

Gaskill. However, he says the orchard also gets a fair number of younger customers from the Ann Arbor area.

Wiard's, which receives an average of 5,000 visitors on a good fall weekend, manufactures vinegar for distribution both in Michigan and out-of-state and sweet cider, which it wholesales in-state only.

The various interests result in annual sales of about $1 million.

Wiard's provides numerous special attractions during the apple season, including a petting farm for children with sheep, pigs, calves, goats, chickens, rabbits and soon a pony; entertainment by a country band on weekends; hayrides; a farm kitchen featuring bratwurst and pizza; a farm market with cider, doughnuts, apple-almond bread, caramel apples and cheeses; and a farm crafts building, which sells aprons and corn husk dolls.

Each weekend something different is featured, such as performances by a magician, a barbershop quartet or a steam engine show.

An antique fair and "Apple of My Eye" baby photo contest is planned Oct. 15-16; a pumpkin "Fantasy Land" Oct. 22-30; and a haunted house sponsored by the Ypsilanti Jayettes the last weekend in October.

Wiard's also offers free tractor rides out to the orchard, a "people mover" among a farm trail and picnic areas.

"For $9, you can pick a bushel of hand-selected apples and get a whole afternoon of entertainment for your family," says Emily Wiard.

Tours are offered for school groups and other organizations at both orchards, but must be arranged in advance.

Wiard's Orchards is open 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. seven days a week. To reach the orchard, take Whittaker Road south to Stony Creek Road and follow the signs.

Saline Orchards is open 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. weekdays and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. The orchard is located 1½ miles south of Michigan Avenue on South Ann Arbor Street.

Other area orchards that offer pick-your-own apples are:

—Apple Hill Orchard & Cider Mill, 4260 Willis, Milan. 40 acres. Open through October, 9 a.m. to dark daily.

—Huron Farms, 3431 N. Zeeb Road, Dexter. 60 acres. Open through October, 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

daily.

—Lutz Orchard, 11030 Macon Road, Saline. 12 acres. Open Oct. 14 to Oct. 29, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

—Plymouth Orchard & Cider Mill, 10685 Warren Road, Plymouth. 30 acres. 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Amateurs take to stage in Talent Showcase

Think all there is to an apple harvest is eating? There's lots more in store for the person looking for a break from red fruit.

The first Amateur Apple Talent Showcase is one place to see a little of everything.

Local talent — from singers to shufflers — will be presenting their stuff during two half-hour shows, one at 2 p.m. and one at 4 at the Washington Street Promenade stage Saturday.

Entertainment between acts will be provided by North American Promotions and Productions Inc. These professional performers include Tahitian dancers, country cloggers and the Dazzler Dancers, a group of women at least 60 years old who have been featured on Detroit's "PM Magazine."

And stick around between shows, as champion spellers from the Ypsilanti Schools try to remember the "I before E" rule in front of all their parents.

For those who like their talent in brighter lights, Hermalee and the Tennessee Rhythm Section kick off the festival Friday in the tent behind Woodruff's Grove.

Hermalee is a niece of

HERMALEE

Loretta Lynn and Crystal Gayle who took up singing at 16 and has been touring with Loretta since her 18th birthday.

She performs free at 9 and 11 p.m. Friday.

Saturday's musical entertainment is a Banjo-Fiddler Jamboree at the tent. The jamboree's informal style suits just fine the local and visiting pickers, strummers, piano tinkers and singers whose style is country and bluegrass. The jamboree is cosponsored by the Michigan Fiddlers' Association.

Amateurs are encouraged to bring their non-electric instruments and join along. Registration is at the special table set up on the Washington Street Promenade between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday. A free-style warm-up runs from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and the jamboree gets under way at 5 p.m.

The amateurs get their chance during the regular bands' breaks, when "anything goes on the microphone," jamboree chairman Lee Curry said.

Dancers and square dance callers reclaim the stage at 7 p.m. This is one dance that is free and open to the public.

Stanley and Company usher in Sunday's festivities with a country gospel concert from 10 a.m. to noon in the tent. Admission is free, but a plate may be passed.

And a Country Rock Jamboree will be held from 1 to 8 p.m. Sunday in the tent. The event features free vignettes by several local and out-state bands.

Also on the entertainment list are an original arts and crafts show, apple displays, an ice cream social and horse and buggy rides.

Apples popular, any way you slice 'em

By JO MOUISH
Press Life/Style Editor

According to the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension, apples have many pluses that are contributing to their popularity. A good source of dietary fiber, potassium and pectin, apples are low in sodium. Eaten at the end of a meal or as a snack, apples are also excellent tooth cleaners.

Michigan offers a wide selection of apple varieties. Some are best for eating fresh, while others are good for pies, salads or other uses.

McIntosh, Jonathan and Idared are considered all-purpose apples. That means that a given variety is good for eating out of hand and for pies, salads, sauce and baking.

McIntosh apples are generally sweeter than Jonathans. Idareds are harvested after Macs and Jonathans. A relatively new variety and an excellent keeper, Idareds are the apple for those who want to put a few apples away for winter in their own basement storage.

The Spy variety, considered the premium apple for pies, is still produced in Michigan, though in smaller quantities than in past years. Proper storage of apples will keep them fresh-tasting and crunchy. Because apples ripen 10 times as fast at 70 degrees than at 32 degrees, they should prevent them from always be refrigerated. Place apples in a plastic bag in the refrigerator to picking up flavors from other foods.

If you don't have time to bake a pie, or simply want some other ways to enjoy the apple, here are a few ideas:

— Arrange red and golden delicious apples in a pretty, ribbon-tied basket. Tuck in sprigs of baby's breath.

— Chop apples and add to your favorite coleslaw recipe.

— Slice apples and serve with cheese for an easy appetizer or dessert.

— Make some Apple Spice Jumbles. They're cookies in a hurry. In a mixer, combine one package (18.5 ounces) spice cake mix with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup oil and two eggs; beat one minute. Fold in $\frac{1}{2}$ cup each pared, shredded apple and seedless raisins. Drop by rounded teaspoonsful about two inches apart onto a lightly greased baking sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ dozen.

— Set out a bowl of apples for an after-school snack. Before baking, lightly sprinkle tops of muffins or pancakes with apples to a favorite cinnamon and sugar.

— Add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup grated apples to a favorite muffins or pancakes with cinnamon and sugar.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY . . . to those who suffer from foot pain

LASER LIGHT

Adds to Conventional Foot Surgery

What is "LASER LIGHT"?

In 1960, scientists first created the laser light beam. They discovered it was possible to compress incredible energy in a single focused light beam that had amazing properties. Most amazing of all, it could penetrate the skin without the use of a scalpel, as in conventional surgery.

FOOT PROBLEMS SOLVED BY THE REMARKABLE LASER LIGHT BEAM

A Wide Variety Of Medical Uses

During the last twenty-three years of research, laser medicine has been used successfully in plastic surgery, ophthalmology, and for other treatments that formerly required conventional surgery.

Introducing . . . Laser Podiatry

The newest medical area to incorporate laser medicine is podiatry. Today, only a few physicians in America are using this new technology to bring needed relief to foot problem sufferers who fear conventional surgery.

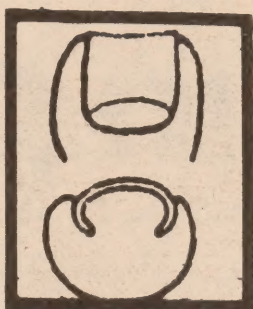

How Laser Podiatry Helps You

In Laser Podiatry, instead of making a cutting incision, a microscopically controlled laser beam is focused on the infected skin or nail. The treatment takes seconds!

In Podiatry, a considerable variety of foot ailments can be treated with the laser

HERE ARE SOME OF THE CONDITIONS NOW SUCCESSFULLY BEING TREATED BY LASERS . . .

INGROWN NAILS

Laser vaporized the corners of the nail and destroys the roots that cause the condition.

WARTS

They grow internally, on the underside of the foot. Instead of cutting or burning the growth, the beam evaporates the growth and prevents recurrence.

FUNGUS NAILS

Previously required painful removal of the affected nail by cutting. Vaporizing the nail is simpler and quicker, while the laser ray sterilizes and destroys the fungus.

PLANTAR CORNS

Deep seated corns on the ball of the foot can be vaporized to help give relief.

We also treat: Senior Citizens foot care, children's foot problems, foot injuries, heel pain, surgical & conservative treatment of bunions, corns and callouses.

Versatile apple is at home in a variety of dishes

APPLE TARTS

Pie dough for two-crust pie

6 medium apples, pared, cored and finely chopped

1/2 cup sugar

1 teaspoon flour

1 teaspoon cinnamon

1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

1/2 stick butter

Roll pastry thin. Cut out 12 rounds about six inches in diameter. Combine apples, sugar, flour and spices. Mix well. Place a mound of apple mixture on each of six pastry rounds. Cover with remaining rounds.

Seal edges with floured tines of fork. Cut small slits in tops. Melt butter in jelly roll pan or cookie sheet with built-up sides. Place pies in melted butter. Bake at 400°F for about 30 minutes. When cool, frost with confectioners' sugar icing and sprinkle with poppy seeds.

GOLDEN APPLE CINNAMON ROLLS

1 package active dry yeast

1/4 cup lukewarm water

1 cup milk

1/2 cup sugar

Butter or margarine

1/2 teaspoon salt

2 eggs, slightly beaten

4 1/2 to 5 cups flour

Golden Apple Filling

Apple Glaze

Soften yeast in water.

Heat milk; add sugar; 1/2 cup butter and salt; cool to lukewarm. Combine milk mixture, yeast mixture and eggs in large bowl. Stir in enough flour to make a soft dough.

Knead on floured surface about 5 minutes or until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; turn to grease top. Cover and let rise in warm place about 1 hour or until double in bulk. Divide dough in quarters; roll each quarter to a 20-by-5-inch rectangle. Spread each rectangle with about 1 tablespoon butter; spread with 1/4 of Golden Apple Filling. Roll up jelly roll fashion, starting at long edge. Cut each roll into 16 slices. Place cut-side up on greased 17 1/2-by-11 1/2-by-1-inch jelly roll pan. Cover and let rise about 1 hour or until doubled. Bake at 350°F 25 to 30 minutes or until golden brown. Drizzle with Apple Glaze while warm. Makes about 64 miniature rolls.

Golden Apple Filling:

Combine 4 cups finely chopped golden delicious apples, 1/4 cup packed brown sugar, 1/4 cup currants or raisins, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon, 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel and dash of salt. Makes about 4 cups.

Apple Glaze: Combine 2 cups powdered sugar and 1/4 cup apple juice or (See RECIPES, Page 16) water; beat until mixture is a smooth, spreading consistency. Makes about 1 cup.

GOLDEN APPLE CHICKEN SAUTE

½ pound boned chicken
2 to 3 tablespoons oil
1 medium green pepper, sliced lengthwise
1 medium onion, sliced lengthwise
1 apple, sliced
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2 teaspoons soy sauce
3 tablespoons vinegar

Remove skin from chicken; cut in ½-by-2½-inch strips. Heat 2 tablespoons oil in skillet. Saute chicken until cooked; remove from pan. Add oil to skillet if necessary; saute green pepper and onions until crisp-tender. Return chicken to vegetables; add apples and heat thoroughly. Combine remaining ingredients; add to apple mixture and cook until sauce thickens. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

STIR-FRIED GOLDEN APPLES 'N COD, MICROWAVE-STYLE

Cut ½ pound cod fillet in half; sprinkle with salt and pepper and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Place in microwave-proof dish. Microwave, covered, at high 3 minutes or until cod flakes easily when tested with a fork. Let stand, covered, 5 minutes. Combine ½ cup sliced carrot, ¼ cup sliced green onions and 1 tablespoon soy sauce in microwave-proof dish. Microwave, covered, at high 2 minutes. Stir in 1 cored and sliced apple and ½ cup sliced mushrooms. Microwave at high 1½ minutes. Serve cod over apple mixture; sprinkle with toasted sesame seeds. Makes 2 servings.

EASY APPLESAUCE THE MICROWAVE WAY

Pare, core and slice 6 apples to equal about 8 cups. Combine apples, ¼ cup water, ¼ cup raisins (optional), 2 tablespoons sugar and ¾ teaspoon ground cinnamon in 3-quart microwave-proof bowl. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave at high (See RECIPES, Page 17)

APPLE HARVEST

OCTOBER 7, 8, 9

Ypsilanti's Apple Harvest Weekend. An old-fashioned celebration of the harvest season. The second of an annual tribute to the apple and the orchards that grow it.

A time when downtown comes alive with the flavor of the season itself — a cidemill casino, the crowning of an apple queen, a concert by "Hermalee," arts and crafts fair, two fun runs, the banjo-fiddler and country music jamborees, an ice-cream social, continuous children's activities, a tented square dance and food for every palate.

Ypsilanti — apple country, boasting a history rich in apple growing. Wiards and Saline orchards are within minutes of downtown. Take I-94 to exit 183 and follow the signs.

Call the Visitors & Convention Bureau at 313/482-4920.

15 minutes or until apples are tender; stir every 5 minutes. Let stand, covered, 5 minutes; mash. Serve warm or chilled.

ALL-AMERICAN APPLE-PORK PIE

1 pound lean pork, cut into thin, narrow strips
2 tablespoons oil

1 small onion, thinly sliced and separated into rings

1/2 cup pared, shredded potato

1 teaspoon salt

1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon each caraway seeds and pepper

2 apples, sliced
1/4 cup apple juice
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Pastry for 9-inch single-crust pie

Cook pork in hot oil in skillet until browned; add onion and cook until tender. Stir in potato. Place half of mixture in 9-inch deep-dish pie plate. Combine seasonings; sprinkle half over pork mixture. Layer half of apples over top. Repeat layers. Pour juice over surface; dot with butter. Roll pastry to fit pie plate. Place over filling and flute edges; cut vents in crust. Bake at 425°F 15 minutes; reduce heat to 350°F and bake 30 to 35 minutes or until apples are tender. Serve hot.

BAVARIAN-STYLE APPLES AND FRANKS

1 medium onion, cut into wedges

2 stalks celery, sliced

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

2 apples, cored and cut into wedges

1 pound frankfurters, halved crosswise

1/2 cup water, divided

1/4 cup packed brown sugar

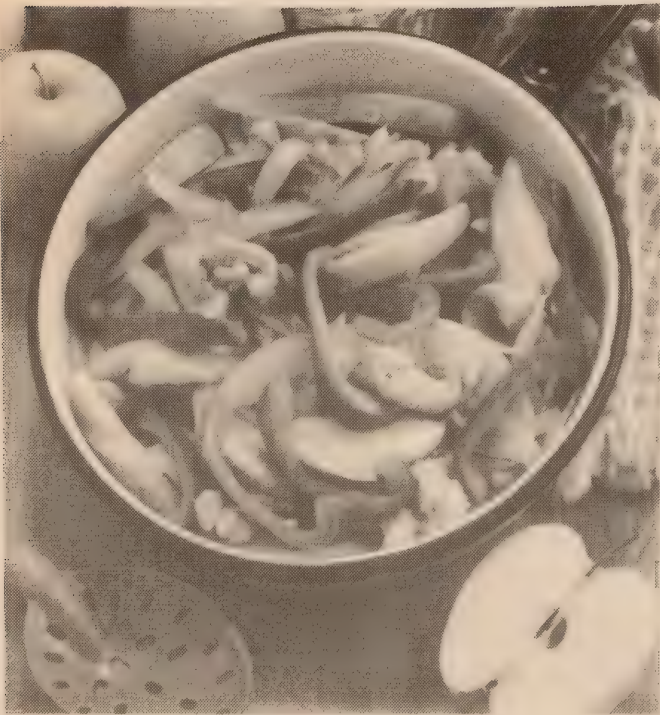

1/4 cup apple cider vinegar

1 teaspoon caraway seeds

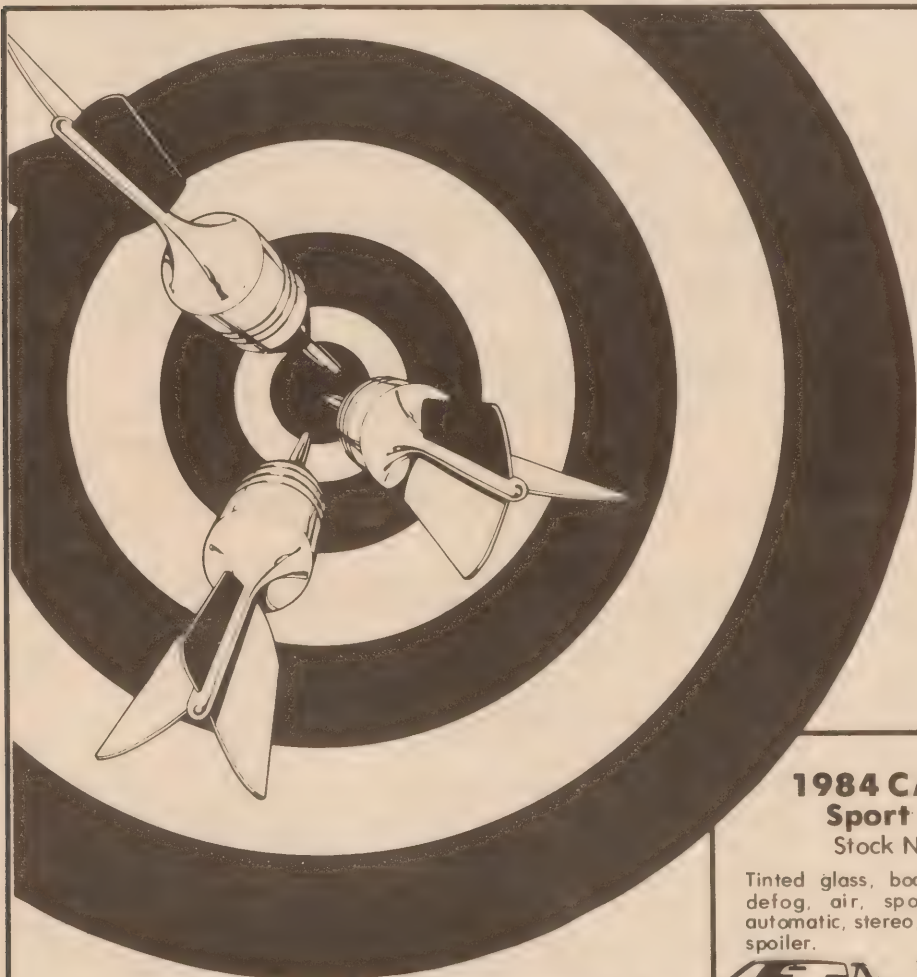

1/4 teaspoon salt

1 tablespoon cornstarch

Saute onion and celery in butter about 5 minutes. Add apples and franks to skillet. Saute 5 minutes longer. Add 1/4 cup water, brown sugar, vinegar, caraway seeds and salt. Cover and simmer gently until apples and vegetables are tender. Dissolve cornstarch in remaining 1/4 cup water. Stir into liquid in skillet. Cook and stir until thickened and clear.

Apples core of thriving industry in Washtenaw

By MARY BARINOFF
Press Staff Writer

While the apple often appears as an afterthought in bag lunches and diet-conscious meals, it is the core of a thriving industry that provides jobs for hundreds of people in Washtenaw County.

Area apple growers are part of a $75 million crop industry statewide that produces 10 to 12 percent of all apples sold in the country, the Michigan Department of Agriculture says.

Although employment is seasonal, the same 150-acre orchard that employs 95 people at harvest time will generally maintain a year-round staff of about 15 to prune trees and assist with other orchard-related business.

According to figures kept by the U.S./Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service, the county has 20 commercial apple growers, about 700 acres of apple orchards and over 50,000 apple trees for commercial production.

A 1978 survey showed the county with 16 apple growers, 543 acres of orchards and 39,725 trees, leading to the conclusion apple production is a growing business in Washtenaw.

The county's apple crop, which represents about 1 percent of the state total, is expected to be worth about $750,000 this year, according to Steve Pscodna of the Agricultural Reporting Service.

But that figure does not include revenue generated by selling apple by-products such as cider and vinegar.

Bob Tritten, a regional specialist for Michigan's Cooperative Extension Service, says most of the state's apple crop is sold (See CORE, Page 19) wholesale at $5 to $6 a bushel. The retail cost jumps to between $8 and $16 a bushel, while apple juice or cider sells for $2.50 to $4 a gallon, he says.

Michigan has about 1,600 apple growers, who are concentrated along Lake Michigan on the western side of the state, Pscodna says. Kent and Berrien counties in southwestern Michigan are the state leader in apple production.

"The climate there is ideal for growing fruit," Pscodna said. "The lake cools (the area) in the summer and warms it in the winter."

With a record apple crop of 23.3 million bushels last year, Michigan is the country's third largest apple producer, ranking only behind Washington, which produced 61 million bushels in 1982 and New York, which produced 26 million bushels the same year.

"It also is the single largest fruit and vegetable crop in the state in terms of farm market value and total acreage devoted to it," said Mark Arney, executive director of the Michigan Apple Committee.

This year's state apple crop is estimated at 17.1

million bushels, Tritten says, with the decrease being blamed on a cold, wet spring and hot dry summer conditions.

Nancy Butler, a crop specialist for the county Cooperative Extension Service, says Washtenaw's apple crop is down from last year because a late spring frost interfered with pollination. Apples also will be smaller because of the dry summer and the fact few county apple growers irrigate their orchards, she says.

Tritten says rainy weather slowed the start of this year's harvest by eight to 10 days. The harvest usually begins after Labor Day and extends through October, he says.

However, an Agricultural Services report indicates McIntosh apples are about one quarter harvested.

A little of this, a little of that, lots of sugar and variety — It's "Applesauce," the Ypsilanti Players offering for the Harvest Festival.

There are three parts to "Applesauce," billed as a "mishmash of theatrical variety for children who want to participate in theater."

There's a sing-along slide show, a living history exhibition and a mini-musical in one act.

"A Victorian Store Front is Missing" is the sing-along. Tom Dodd will lead the show and has produced the slides. The living history exhibition will be presented by James McGough in cooperation with the Detroit Institute of Arts. McGough has performed the exhibit at Greenfield Village.

And "Stephen and the Star Maiden" will cap the production, under the direction of Debbit Smith.

The one-hour performance will be 2, 4 and 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 and 4 p.m. Sunday at the First United Methodist Church, 209 Washtenaw.

Cidermill Casino to challenge gamblers at Festival

The successful Riverboat Casino from the Ypsilanti Yeateryear Heritage Festival will put on a different face for the second Apple Harvest Festival and reappear as the Cidermill Casino.

Blackjack, roulette and dice games, all with the blessings of the authorities, will take place from 5 p.m. to midnight Friday, noon to midnight Saturday and noon to 8 p.m. Sunday at the casino tent behind Woodruff's Grove.

Representatives of the downtown business district and the Ypsilanti Jayettes will man the gambling tent. Beer and refreshments will be available.

Half of the proceeds from the gambling and 10 percent of the gross beer sales will be turned over to the Apple Harvest Festival.

As during the Heritage Festival, volunteers who are 18 or older are being sought to help in the casino. If interested, call Haab's Restaurant at 483-8200.

Other special events slated during the three-day Festival are:

5K and 10K Apple Harvest Fun Runs: Check-in 9 a.m. Saturday, starts at 10:10 and 10:20 a.m.

Runners will meet at the tent on the corner of Huron and Pearl to check in. The first 50 finishers for both races will receive awards. First-, second- and third-place winners in both male and female divisions will win trophies. The remaining top 44 finishers will receive medallions. Runners may pre-register with the sponsoring agency, Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission, P.O. Box 8645, Ann Arbor 48107. The entry fee is $7.

Dried Apple Dolls Making Demonstration: noon to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Ypsilanti resident Angie Kennedy, 86, who has been making dolls from dried apples since 1940, will exhibit her talents in the Washington Street Promenade at the festival. Her wares, which also include teddy bears, are on display at the Michigan State Museum in Lansing and the East Lansing College Museum.

Apple Harvest Weekend Arts and Crafts Exhibition: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

More than 75 artists and craftsperson will set up their wares along the Promenade, and will include stoneware, woodwork, handmade fabric items, glass blowing, stained glass, paintings, jewelry and leather goods.

Lowenbrau Dart Tournament: 2 p.m. Saturday, Mainstreet

Saloon, 11 W. Michigan. Prizes of $150 for first place, $80 for second place and $40 for third place.

Fall Fashion Revue: 11 a.m. Sunday. Woodruff's Grove, 124 Pearl.

Local residents will model fall fashions from Gutman's and Mellen-camp's stores in conjunction with a special
